FARMER'S NEW CASH SYSTEM.
ALL GOODS AT WHOLESALE PRICES.
A great social as well as a commercial change, the influence of which on household economy it is idle to attempt to gainsay. This system of prompt ready-money payments, so successfully inaugurated here by Messrs. Farmer and Company, has long since made itself felt throughout the United Kingdom, and with extraordinary force in the great metropolis. It has needed no advocacy, there, the disposition to take advantage of its benefits pervading each and every class. Ladies of rank and others of high social standing have vied to patronise it (not that it needed patronage); the middle classes have hailed its advent gladly, while to the very considerable number of families with but small fixed incomes it has proved an incalculable boon.
Hitherto in Sydney there has been abundant opportunity to purchase drapery goods of a certain character at prompt net cash prices, but only of late has the opportunity been extended to really first-class articles. Already it is surprising to notice the eagerness with which the Sydney public has accepted the change. The advantages the new system offers can at any time be demonstrated by paying a visit to Victoria House. In the prices in each department is the change apparent, causing many, at first disposed to view it with no great favour, quickly to alter their opinions, and agree to accept the benefits it is ready to confer.

The City of Adelaide (s.) left Sandridge Pier on Monday, September 29, at 2.15 p.m., and cleared Port Phillip Heads at 5.20 p.m.; rounded Wilson's Promontory on the 30th, at 1.50 a.m.; passed Gabo Island at 5 p.m. same date, and entered Port Jackson Heads October 1, at 12.30 p.m., having experienced fresh S.W. and variable winds with cloudy weather throughout the passage.

The Chimborazo (s.), from London, has arrived in port, after a smart passage, but without incident of an important nature. The ship left Plymouth on the 14th August, at 1 p.m., and met with moderate winds and weather to St. Vincent's, where she arrived at 5.30 p.m. on the 21st, coaled, and resumed the voyage on the 23rd, at 6.30 a.m.; had moderate winds to the Cape of Good Hope; Table Bay being reached on the 6th September at 6.30 a.m., and left the same day at 5.15 p.m. The easting was run down in 40½° S., with moderate and strong winds from W.N.W. to W.S.W.; passed Cape Borda on the 24th September at 6.20 p.m.; arrived at the Adelaide Semaphore on the 25th at 5.30 a.m., and left on the 26th at 1 a.m., and arrived in Hobson's Bay on the 29th September at 5 p.m. Some very excellent running is shown in the log-book at the outset, 327 knots being the greatest day's work, and 293 the least between Plymouth and St. Vincent's, but thence to the Cape there was not so great speed, the best day's run being 308 knots, and the smallest 264. This was in consequence of strong head winds. From the Cape to Melbourne the days' runnings were all over 306, and one reached 341 knots. The ship left Hobson's Bay on the 29th September, at 1.15 p.m., cleared the Heads at 4.30 p.m., passed Cape Schanck at 6.15 p.m., and was off Wilson's Promontory at midnight. Passed Gabo Island on the 30th, at 1.7 p.m., and Jervis Bay at midnight. Sighted the South Head light on October 1, at 4.15 a.m., received the pilot at 6 a.m., and anchored in Neutral Bay at 6.45 a.m., thus making the passage in 37½ hours from Heads to Heads, and 41½ hours from anchorage to anchorage.

The Wakatipu (s.), E. Wheeler, left Dunedin at 4.30 p.m. on 22nd September, arriving at Lyttelton at 11 a.m. on 23rd; left again at 7.30 p.m. same day, arriving at Wellington at 4 p.m. Experienced fine weather on coast. Left Wellington at 4 p.m. Experienced N.W. gale and thick weather till 26th September, when light and calms set in till noon 27th, when westerly gale, with violent squalls and heavy sea, was met with, which continued till 30th, when light N.W. breeze set in till arrival. Entered Heads at 7 a.m.

The Kiama (s.) left Moruya on Monday, September 29, at 6 p.m., arrived at Tathra at 1 p.m. on the 30th, left at 9, passed Cape St. George at 9 p.m. same day, Wollongong at 3 a.m. on the 1st instant, entered Sydney Heads at 7.40, and arrived at company's wharf at 8.30. Experienced light variable winds and fine weather throughout the passage. The cargo consists of 557 cheeses, 101 sacks bacon, 40 sacks maize, 15 sacks bark, 8 sacks oysters, 10 cases eggs, 43 kegs butter, 20 casks lard, 1 case lard, 10 tins lard, 31 hides, 1 coop turkies, a quantity of packages of empty bottles, and sundries.

The passage of the Inch Murren, from London, is notable for being the best that has been made from land to land for a very long time past. The ship belongs to the Clutha Shipping Company of Glasgow, and she has only, previous to this voyage, made a run to Calcutta and home. She is a powerful looking ship, and her commander, Captain Paterson, who is now on his first visit to Australian waters, may be congratulated on the success of the voyage. The ship left the Downs on the night of the 5th July, and met with heavy westerly gales in the Channel, in fact, more like winter than summer breezes. Put the pilot ashore at the Start Point, but did not clear the Lizard till she 15th July, when the final departure was taken. Experienced westerly and baffling winds, giving the ship considerable difficulty in weathering Madeira; moderate N.E. trades, which carried the ship to the island of San Antonio; from thence a tedious passage was made to the equator. Strong S.W. monsoons were experienced between 11½ degrees N. and the equator, which was crossed on the 8th August in 25° W. Picked up the trades in 2½ degrees S.; they prevailed from S.S.E. to within 300 miles of Cape Frio. The ship thence made a zigzag track to Cape Goff Island, which was passed on the 27th August. On that day encountered a northerly gale with sleet; was due south of the Cape of Good Hope on the 4th September, in 44° south; ran down the easting in a mean parallel of 46 degrees S., the highest southern latitude attained being 47° S. In these latitudes strong gales from N.W. to S.W., with a heavy sea, was experienced. When due north of Kerguelen Island, fell in with most severe snow squalls and blinding showers of hail, the wind at the time being chiefly from S.S.W. The barometer was low set, and the average of the thermometer about 40. The ship passed through an immense quantity of seaweed and drift when between the Crozett's and Kerguelen Islands. Passed the meridian of Cape Leuwin on the 21st September in latitude 46½ degrees south, and made the S.W. Cape of Tasmania on the 28th September, at noon. The ship, it will be seen, made splendid running all the way from the Cape of Good Hope to this port, the average being 270 miles per day for 18 consecutive days. When crossing Bass's Straits had a stiff westerly gale, with a heavy sea. Passed Twofold Bay on the 30th September at noon, and arrived at Sydney on the 1st October, at noon, 78 days from The Lizard, and 26 days from the meridian of the Cape of Good Hope. The Inch Murren reports speaking, on the 11th September, in latitude 44·11 degrees S., longitude 27·55 degrees E., a Norwegian ship, showing H.M.B.Q.

The Mount Stuart, from London, is a handsome Glasgow clipper, and is now on her second voyage, her first having been made to Calcutta. She left London on the 16th June, and the Start Point on the 18th. During the first ten days of the voyage was baffled by S. E. and S. W. winds, thence had north and N.W. winds till the trades were taken in 30° N.; carried them to 2° N., and crossed the Equator on the 27th July in 27° W. The S. E. trades commenced light, strengthened as the ship got to the end of them, and they were parted with in 26° S. on the 7th August. From thence to the longitude of the Cape of Good Hope had N.E. and northerly winds. Passed the meridian of the Cape of Good Hope on the 24th August in 40° S., and the easting was made between that parallel and 39° S., with moderate S.W. and N.W. winds. Rounded the south-west cape of Tasmania on the 27th September, and from thence had W. and N.W. winds.

The Fiona (s.) left the Clarence at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, and entered Sydney Heads at 10.30 p.m. on Wednesday. Experienced light N.E. winds to Port Macquarie; thence strong southerly winds. Called at the South Solitary, and took on board Mr. J. M'Leod and Mr. Noble. Cargo: 4265 sacks sugar.

The Elamang (s.) passed Port Macquarie, bound south, at 5 p.m., yesterday.

The Bowen (s.), from Brisbane to Sydney, passed Port Macquarie bound south, at 6.30 p.m. yesterday.

The Tasman (s.), for Hobart Town, arrived at Twofold Bay, at 6.30 p.m.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

This was one of the slackest days known for some time in the Stock and Share market. Bank shares were firm, and no City offered. Commercial had sellers at 95—new shares, which with £6 5s. paid up are worth 57; buyers of Joint Stock at 13½, sellers at 13¾; Mercantile wanted at 5, offered at 5½; New South Wales inquired for at 47½, held for 48; National of Queensland had buyers at 5⅝, sellers at 5¾; Union wanted at 50, offered at 53. No change whatever in debentures. The only demand was for New South Wales fives at 106½; and for Queensland fours at 89, neither offer being accepted. Insurance shares quiet. Accident had buyers at 1s. 3d., sellers at 1s. 8d.; Australian Fire buyers at 6s. 3d., sellers at 6s. 9d.; City buyers at 9d., sellers at 1s.; General not offered; Mercantile wanted at 1s. 6d., sellers at 2s.; New South Wales held for 47s.; buyers of Pacific at 43s. 3d., sellers at 44s.; Sydney Fire wanted at 64s.; offered at 66s.; Sydney Marine held for 30s., and United for 34s. 3d. Gaslight shares unchanged—fully paid had buyers at 12, sellers at 12½; new issue wanted at 4½, offered at 5. The only transaction we heard of in Steam was in North Shore Ferry, at 7s. 6d.; Australasian had buyers at 13¾, sellers at 14¼; Clarence and Richmond stronger, 6½ refused, 7 asked, and preferential wanted at 12½; there were no Hunter River for sale, 6¼ offered; Illawarra had sellers at 6¾. In Mining a further advance was noticeable in Star of Peace Gold, 5s. being refused, 7s. 6d. wanted; Band and Albion had inquiry at 60s., sellers at 64s.; Krohmann's declined to 1s. 6d., sellers. Coal shares the same as yesterday. Shale Oil hardly so firm, 14s. would have been accepted. No Creat Cobar Copper for sale.

The Treasury officials have again issued the quarterly statement of revenue receipts and expenditure with great promptitude. The statement for the past three months is not as satisfactory as could have been wished. For the third quarter of 1878, the receipts on account of revenue proper amounted to £1,074,575 18s. 5d., which, as compared with £993,445 10s. 2d. for the past three months, shows that there has been a falling off amounting to £81,130 8s. 3d. From the Customs department £284,797 was received—a decrease of £2233. The duty on refined sugar and molasses was less by £375, but this was almost balanced by an increase of £220 on colonial-made spirits. A sum of £1840, derived from stamps, is all on the side of increase. Railways yielded £225,017, or £28,705 in excess of the corresponding quarter of 1878; and from the postal department an increased revenue of £6666 was derived. Pilotage and harbour fees were more by £405, and there was a trifling increase in fees of office. Rents exclusive of land were greater by £1110. The Exhibition added £6813 to the public income, and under the head of unclassified receipts there was an increase of £70,583, of which £69,098 is given under the head of other receipts. The decrease in the Customs revenue is a mere bagatelle as compared with that in the Lands department, from which a total of £251,226 was obtained, as against £442,948 for the September quarter of last year. The chief cause of the decreased revenue is to be found under the head of land, and as the greater portion arises from smaller sales having been made, it is not so much to be deplored. On auction sales alone there was a falling-off of £120,661; deposits on conditional purchases were less by £57,073; improved purchases by £21,250, while instalments on conditional purchases increased to the extent of £16,938, but interest on same was less by £5286. The total amount obtained from pastoral occupation was £11,647, a decrease of £325; from mining, £3679, increase £763; from miscellaneous land receipts, £6180, decrease £165. Of the Customs revenue, £234,263 was collected at Sydney, £14,224 at outports, and £36,309 derived from Border duties. The receipts are thus classified:—£315,368 was derived from taxation, £251,226 from lands, £311,558 was for services rendered, and miscellaneous receipts aggregated £103,645. General loans account is credited with £1,771,560, stated to have been advanced by the Bank of New South Wales, and was on account of the new loan raised in London. In addition to the receipts on account of Consolidated Revenue already mentioned, £500,000 of the sum advanced to loans during the past year was repaid, making the total for the quarter £1,493,415, against disbursements amounting to £1,664,192, which is thus divided:—For services of 1879, £111,449; ditto 1878, £805; previous years, £10; from accumulated surplus account, £208,877. The actual balance still remaining at credit of Consolidated Revenue is £2,945,552, and of this £1,293,812 has to be repaid from loans account. There is still on special deposit in the hands of the banks £1,725,000. The Bank of New South Wales had on open account £1,119,088, and there was in the hands of the receiver £12,355. These sums, added to £604,700 represented by securities in the Treasury chest, give as the total balances at credit of public accounts yesterday £3,697,881.

Though an increased quantity of new wool has come to hand this week, Messrs. Mort and Co. did not hold their usual fortnightly sale to-day. At their next sale they will probably offer the first of this season's clip. They cleared a catalogue of 54 lots sheepskins at from 2d. to 5½d., according to condition and quality. Mr. Bridge disposed of 4 bales greasy wool at 6d. to 7d., and sheepskins at 2d. to 5d.

In the Import markets there was not much doing, but there were indications of an improvement in the demand for country trade supplies. At auction, Messrs. Fraser and Co., quitted some colonial sugars and sundries at fair prices. There was a stronger feeling in wheat, and holders of Adelaide asked 5s. 9d. Candles in limited trade request; 8d. paid for a good brand. Kerosene in demand, 1s. 10d. to 1s. 10½d. The quotation in New York given to-day should have been per American gallon. The Shale and Oil Company are supplying Comet (of 150 degrees fire test) at 1s. 6d. In liquors we note the quittance of a good line of Dagger stout to land at 8s. 9d.; and a line of Anglo-Bavarian ale, in glass, for export to Melbourne, at equal to 11s. A sale of 1-lb. salmon, old catch, was made at 6s. 6d.; new, per Australia, is held for 7s. 6d. Brandies continue dull, although late cablegrams indicate that the colonial market must advance. Mauritius sugars are firmer. Late advices quote white crystals at 8 to 8¾ dollars. The total value of shipments of general merchandise from England to the colonies during the month ending August 2, was £1,270,200, against £1,392,100 for the preceding four weeks, a decrease of £121,900. For this port the exports were valued at £427,900, decrease £39,900: to Melbourne £359,300, decrease £83,700; to Queensland £66,400, increase £38,300; to New Zealand, £166,000, decrease £107,000; to Adelaide £214,600, increase £46,200.

The supply of produce offering for sale at Darling Harbour this morning was, on the whole, of prime quality, and, as the attendance of buyers was large and the demand good, high prices were realized without difficulty. Oaten hay, in trusses and bundles, readily moved at rates in advance of those obtainable last market. From 7s. to 7s. 8d. was about the ruling price, and for one lot 8s. 2d. was accorded. Pressed hay was not so firm, and 6s. 8d. was the highest price obtained for it. Lucerne steadily maintained late values, and 4s. 6d. was about the ruling quotation for prime, as high as 5s. being realized for extra prime lots, and as low as 3s. for inferior. Straw was in fair demand, and may be quoted at from 3s. 6d. to 4s. for best. One lot of fine rye straw fetched 4s. 7d. Potatoes are very scarce, and sales were very firm, at from 7s. 6d. to 8s. 2d. for prime, the latter price being obtained for more than one lot. A few trucks of turnips were disposed of at 1s. 6d. per cwt.; chaff realized from 6s. 6d. to 6s. 9d. Firewood was sold at the following rates:—Billet wood, 9s. 6d. to 11s.; bundle, 11s. to 14s. 6d.; foot-lengths, 11s. 6d. to 15s.

The following shipments of coin and bullion were made by the P. and O. steamer Avoca:—£387 13s. 2d., bar gold, G. King and Co.; £1200, silver coin, Curcier, Adet, and Co.; £5263, ditto, Oriental Bank; £3223, Bank of Australasia; £2480, ditto, Union Bank; £4500, silver bullion, Royal Mint.

The Customs' duties received yesterday were as follows:—

Spirits, £833 16s. 6d.; wine (still), £122 2s. 9d.; wine, (sparkling), £9; ale, porter and beer in bottle, £205 7s. 9d.; tobacco and snuff, £12 4s.; tobacco (unmanufactured), £182 13s.; cigars, £35 3s. 2d.; tea, £101 1s. 11d.; coffee and chicory, £27; sugar (unrefined), £172 16s. 3d.; opium, £71 5s.; rice, 3s. 10d.; dried fruits, £645 9s. 8d.; nuts, £2 13s. 9d.; malt, £48 15s.; specific duty, £953 14s. 9d.; rent of goods in Queen's warehouse, 3s. 6d.; pilotage, £51 0s. 4d.; harbour and light dues, £65 17s. 4d. Total, £3540 8s. 6d.

The Customs duties received to-day were as follows:—

Spirits, £835 1s. 2d.; wine, still, £103 15s. 6d.; ditto, sparkling, £9 9s.; ale, porter, and beer (in wood), £97 10s.; ditto (in bottle), £58 16s.; tobacco and snuff, £37 14s.; tobacco, unmanufactured, £223 5s.; cigars, £70 5s.; tea, £216 16s. 9d.; coffee and chicory, £14 2s. 6d.; sugar, refined, £1 0s. 5d.; rice, £32 9s. 9d.; dried fruits, £549 3s. 2d.; nuts, £6 10s.; malt, 1s. 6d.; hops, £19 3s. 9d.; sarsaparilla, 7s. 8d.; specific duty, £875 18s. 3d.; bonding warehouse duty, £75; rent of goods in Queen's warehouse, 1s. 8d.; pilotage, £51 16s. 4d. The Sydney Morning Herald.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1879.

The sixth quinquennial report of the Australian Mutual Provident Society presented to the members of that wonderfully prosperous institution, in their new hall, last Tuesday, is a document of more than ordinary interest. When that society was established, thirty years ago, the colonies of Victoria and Queensland were unborn, and the whole population of Australasia did not reach half a million, of whom two-thirds were resident within the present territory of New South Wales. That population has now become nearly three millions, and is still increasing in number, wealth, and power, more rapidly than any other British community. The Mutual Provident Society may claim to be no unworthy exponent of that growth, and, though it is a Sydney institution, it is also intercolonial, for the business in force consists of 35,218 policies, of which 12,316 are in New South Wales, and 22,902 in the other colonies. All these policy-holders are bound together by a community of interests yearly increasing in magnitude, and wherever they may dwell they will hail with satisfaction the evidences of security and progress so clearly given by Mr. Black in this last quinquennial report.

The operations of the society may be represented by a few general facts. Its income from all sources for the whole thirty years has been over four and a-half millions sterling, its outgo nearly two millions; its annual premiums have reached £456,438, covering a total amount of £13,392,121 assured on existing policies; its accumulated fund is £2,606,053, which is 19½ per cent. on the total amount assured; and after dividing among its members at five former quinquennial investigations profits to the amount of £411,786, it has a surplus to divide for the last quinquennium of £504,382, which gives an average of £16 on each participating policy outstanding, and is equal to 20 per cent. on the total premiums paid during the five years. Out of the total sum received as premiums by the society, it still retains 75 per cent. invested in good securities, and has returned 8¼ per cent. as cash bonuses, besides meeting death claims amounting to 26½ per cent. of the total premiums. One line in the report shows the stability of the society most effectively, "while the average age of the policies is only 5¼ years, the funds in hand amount to 5¾ years' premium income." As the natural consequence of its extraordinary success the institution has had an unparralleled accession of new business, and of the whole number of policies in force 20,739 have been effected during the last five years, and during the last year alone 6193 policies covering sums exceeding two millions sterling. The very magnitude of these operations is a serious responsibility, and both to the managers and the public it is of some importance to apprehend clearly the causes of past success and the conditions of future prosperity.

At the outset it is due to the directors and principal officers to give them the credit of faithful, diligent, and judicious administration. They have been as careful of the society's money as they could be of their own, and they have secured remunerative investments with a minimum of risk. Compared with the reckless manner in which some offices are accustomed to seek new business, the expenses of management in the Mutual Provident are low, and there is no reason why they should not be. Including commission and depreciation of office premises, they amount to 17 per cent. on the total premium income of the thirty years, and the same rate holds good also for the last five years, although good offices usually become relatively more economical as their age and business increase. When there is severe competition for new business, there must be more advertising and canvassing, and it was to be expected that the prosperity of the Mutual Provident would bring rivals into the field. But it is possible to pay too much for new business, and the more it costs the less will be its remunerative return. It is for the directors to determine how far they can safely go, but it is for the public to determine to make the waste of competition as small as possible.

The principal source from which bonuses are derived is the high rate of interest obtained for capital in these colonies. The tables are calculated at 4 per cent., and the average for all the English companies is given by Mr. Black at 4½ per cent. actually realized. The Mutual Provident at the close of last year had its funds invested at an average of 6¼ per cent., and the difference, as compared with the English companies, is equal to an annual sum of £45,606 on its accumulated funds. The interest varies greatly on different classes of securities, and that can scarcely be regarded as other than an embarrassing element in life assurance management. Whatever risk there may be on individual lives, there should be the least possible risk in the investments which are to cover the sum total of individual risks, and a difference in the rate of interest indicates either risk in the securities or partiality on the part of the management. The directors have done their best to avoid both, and yet there is a considerable margin between their best and worst investments. At the close of last year they had £501,265 invested in Government debentures at 5·1 per cent.; £1,472,468 in loans on mortgage at 6.72 per cent.; £270,105 in loans on policies at 7·33 per cent.; £229,015 on deposit with banks at 6·33 per cent.; £107,864 on miscellaneous securities at 5·01 per cent., and £56,268 unproductive. If it be true that high interest means bad security, how are these different rates to be justified? No doubt the answer will be that money has been dear in these colonies of late, and that the directors have accepted only good securities at the rates current for the same class; but that answer does not equitably meet all the differences indicated in this list of investments, and the less a life office has to do with fluctuations in the money market the more likely is it to attain its main purpose of absolute security to the assurers against the greatest of all risks—the uncertainty of individual human lives.

Another cause of profit to the Mutual Provident is to be found in the careful selection of lives, and the surcharges made on doubtful lives. According to the average upon which the tables are based the claims should have amounted to £158,878, for the last five years, instead of which they only reached £87,968, or a little more than half the expectancy. Mr. Black very properly says, "It is now well understood that the mortality among recently selected lives is less than among lives of a corresponding age, but which have been assured for longer periods." That is a very high compliment to the medical profession, and also shows the importance of new business in a life office. But young lives become old, and if less than the average fall in during one period, more than the average may be expected to fall in subsequently, and the reserve fund ought not to conform to these fluctuations. It is also very material to the question of national life assurance to note that this office accepted during the last five years only 17,361 lives as first-class and surcharged 5992 more from one to ten years on the true age of the applicants, out of a total of 33,186 proposals. Bad lives have a value as well as good ones, and the practice of surcharges admits the principle that extra risks may be included in the law of averages. A company which simply exists for the sake of affording its members profitable and safe investments, cannot be expected to become a charitable institution; but to a State which has to support the improvident, the greater the risk, the greater is the need for providing for it, and national insurance may become the cure for national pauperism. In a State scheme of insurance there would be no wasteful competition, and the practice of loading the net premiums, which increases the average sum payable in the Mutual Provident by 30 per cent., could also be confined within very narrow limits. The function of science is to eliminate the element of chance from human affairs, and the more perfectly man is able to provide for contingencies, the more perfectly will he fulfil his destiny as the lord of nature and the king of terrestrial intelligences.

The quarterly abstracts of revenue and expenditure were published yesterday in the Gazette. During the quarter ending with September, 1875, our three months' revenue for the first time exceeded (though slightly) a million sterling. Since that time it has never fallen below that amount until now. The returns for the quarter just ended show a total of £993,000 for revenue proper, which was a decrease of £81,000 upon the corresponding quarter of last year, and of £7000 upon the corresponding quarter of 1875 before referred to. It will, of course, be understood that the chief cause of the decrease is the shrinkage of the land revenue. The receipts under the head of sales amounted to £225,000 only, a decrease of £186,000, as compared with the returns for the September quarter of 1878, and of £434,000 as compared with the corresponding returns two years ago. The figures, in fact, are less than those for the 1874 quarter, though they exceed those for the like period in 1873. We are going back, indeed, towards what Mr. Stuart would call the "normal" standard of land sales. It is to be observed that sales both at auction and selection are falling off. Comparing the tables with those for the September quarter last year, the auction sales have decreased from £218,000 to £97,000, and the deposits on conditional purchases from £112,000 to £55,000. The instalments on conditional purchases amounted to £20,000, an increase of £16,000; but that is due to the compulsory provisions of the Act of 1875. The sum paid as balances was only the paltry one, as compared with the millions outstanding, of £8042, an increase of £99. The interest, £4302, shows a decrease of more than £5000. The net decrease in the land revenue, as a whole, was £191,000, so that if we could leave the land out of the calculation, the revenue and receipts from other sources would be seen to have yielded an increase of £110,000. This, however, is chiefly due to the growth of the railway receipts from £196,000 to £225,000, an increase of £7000 on postage, the introduction of a new item £6000, receipts from the Exhibition, and an increase of £69,000 in "other receipts," unclassified and unspecified. The Customs revenue has been at a standstill; there is a considerable decrease on spirits, wine, and tobacco, but nearly an equivalent increase on beer, tea, sugar, and other articles. Publicans' licenses have fallen off by £1600, from the amount (£15,000) collected for the like period last year. It is satisfactory to observe that the receipts at the Government Savings Banks show an increase of £11,000. The amount received was £112,000, whilst the payments were £85,000. The statement shows that £1,771,000 has been advanced by the Bank of New South Wales on General Loans Account, and that £500,000 has been repaid to Consolidated Revenue on account of advances to Loan Funds. The Consolidated Revenue Fund receipts (including this repayment) amounted to £1,493,000, against payments during the quarter to the amount of £1,664,000, leaving, of course, a deficit. For the first time, however, we have a portion of the expenditure set apart in a table by itself under the head of "accumulated surplus account." The sum so set apart is £208,000, and is included in the total of payments last mentioned. In the principal table, however, under this new arrangement the payments during the quarter for services of 1879, appear as £1,167,000, which would leave an apparent surplus of £326,000 upon that portion of the quarter's transactions. But what is the expenditure from accumulated surplus, but expenditure for services of 1879? And if so, how can it conduce to a satisfactory understanding of our affairs to make the surplus appear £200,000 larger than it is by the arbitrary separation of a portion of the expenditure? If the accumulated surplus were withdrawn from the revenue account, and absolutely reserved for "accumulated surplus expenditure," the value of the new system would be more readily perceptible. As it is, the arrangement tends towards mystification. By the way, it is not easy to recognise in the tables the particular item which covers the expenditure on account of the Exhibition.

One of the largest exhibits of our own local produce now on view in the Garden Palace is the sugar trophy erected near the statue of her Majesty. It is worth while noticing how the sugar industry has grown up within the colony in a few years, and to what extent we still remain dependent upon foreign producers. The import of refined sugar last year was less than half a million pounds weight, and deducting that from the export there is left a net export of 8,986,712 lbs., worth £128,866, so that New South Wales not only refines enough to supply her own demand, but also helps to supply the wants of her neighbours, chiefly in New Zealand. The net import of raw sugar for the year was 60,380,519 lbs., part of which was refined in bond and re-exported without paying duty to our revenue. Deducting for that, there is about fifty million pounds weight left for our own consumption at a value of about £547,000. The yield of sugar from cane grown in the colony was 18,278,736 lbs., but the value of the crop is not given, nor is anything stated as to how far the sugar had been refined when placed in the market. Putting these figures together, it may be said that the colony requires, with its present population, about seventy million pounds weight of raw sugar per annum, at a value of three-quarters of a million sterling, and more than one-fourth of that quantity is grown upon our own soil. The first year when a sugar crop appeared among our agricultural produce was 1864, and then the yield was only 280 lbs., so that this industry has grown from nothing to its present magnitude in fourteen years. The area under sugar-cane last year was only 7439 acres, and of this area only 2950 acres were productive; therefore, the yield was 6196 lbs. of sugar per acre ready for crop, which would be equal to £70 per acre at the import price. With such a return to the cultivator, sugar-growing ought to pay in New South Wales, without the bonus afforded by our existing tariff. The duty of 5s. per cwt. on raw sugar was never intended to be protective, because it was imposed before sugar-growing became a native industry. But it has become protective now to a very serious extent, and with great loss to the revenue. If our home consumption may be approximately estimated at 30,000 tons for last year, the revenue ought to have received £150,000 on that amount, had the tax been equitably distributed. But native produce paid nothing, as there is no Excise to balance the Customs, and that was equivalent to a bonus of £40,000 on the year's crop, or £5 7s. 6d. for every acre under sugar-cane both productive and unproductive. The imported sugar paid £67,486 to the Customs directly, and £40,213 through the refineries, which is about the amount due on the quantity imported in excess of exports. When the TREASURER submits his next budget it is but reasonable to expect him either to show good cause for the continuance of this anomaly, or to propose some method for making the duty on sugar harmonise with the principles of our fiscal system.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE R. M. S. Siam, with the incoming English mails via Suez, reached King George's Sound about 8 o'clock last evening. She left Galle on the 18th ultimo, three days in advance of contract time. She has made a quick passage across the Indian Ocean, and reached Albany nearly six days in advance of time-table date. Her latest London date, via Brindisi, is August 29.

CORRESPONDENCE for the outgoing English mail steamer Tanjore, which leaves Melbourne on Saturday next, can be posted by a supplementary mail, which will close at the General Post Office to-day at 5.30 p.m., provided that, in addition to the ordinary postage, a late fee of 6d. be affixed to all letters to be so forwarded.

WE have again to compliment the Treasury officials on the promptitude with which the quarterly statement has been published within a few hours after the quarter closed. The accounts show that the public revenue proper for the past three months was only £993,445 10s. 2d. as against £1,074,575 18s. 5d. for the corresponding portion of 1878. There has, therefore, been a falling off of £81,130 8s. 3d. Against the actual receipts there has been £1,664,192 paid away from Consolidated Revenue Fund, of which sum £1,276,117 was on account of 1879, and includes £208,877 spent out of the Accumulated Surplus dealt with by Parliament last session. The sources of revenue were:—Taxation, £315,638; land, £251,226; services rendered, £311,558; miscellaneous receipts, £115,292. In the Customs Department there was a decrease of over £2000, in land sales of £186,009, besides £5286 in interest on conditional purchases. The Railway Department shows conspicuously at the head of the increases, with a credit balance of £28,705, and the Post-office exhibits an increase of £6666. A new item, Sydney International Exhibition, is included in the receipts, and credited with an increase of £6813. During the quarter the Bank of New South Wales advanced to the Government, on account of last loan, £1,771,500.

THERE was another large attendance at the International Exhibition yesterday. The official returns show that nearly 7000 persons passed through the turnstiles. Very many, of course, went to see the show of sheep, alpacas, swine, &c. The new and ingenious and beautiful exhibits in the machinery halls are also proving a great source of attraction. In the Garden Palace fresh exhibits are being added daily. The gardens surrounding the Palace are now almost completed. This afternoon (Thursday being what is termed a half-crown day) a grand vocal and orchestral concert will be given, and a large attendance may therefore be expected.

A SUPPLEMENT to the Government Gazette, published yesterday, contains two proclamations under the hand and seal of his Excellency the Governor. One excludes from conditional sale about 231 square miles of land, forming the Barmedman gold-fields. The other proclaims the said land to be a gold-field under the provisions of the Mining Act of 1874, to be called the Barmedman Gold-field. The boundaries of this gold-field are defined in the Gazette notice.

THE growing traffic between the city and that very beautiful inlet, Mossman's Bay, with its charming surroundings, has induced the proprietors of the ferry steamers plying between these places to build a larger steamer, one possessing better and more commodious passenger accommodation than the vessels now running from the Circular Quay and Woolloomooloo. The new steamer, the Pacific, was placed on the line from the Quay a few days ago, taking the place of the Katie. She is a screw steamer, was built by Mr. Ford, of Berry's Bay, and her engines and machinery were supplied by Chapman and Co. She has accommodation for about 150 passengers; she is nicely fitted up; she is a remarkably fast boat, and appears in every way suitable for the service in which she is employed; she does the trip between the Quay and the wharf at Mossman's Bay in about twelve minutes. Her engines are twelve-horse nominal power. The Katie is undergoing a complete overhaul, and, when again launched, will take the place of the Cawary, now running from Woolloomooloo to Mossman's Bay.

MR. JAMES CAMPBELL, who for many years carried on business in Morpeth and represented the constituency for several years in the Legislative Assembly, died suddenly on Tuesday night at his residence in the township of Robertson, in the Wingecarribbee district. The immediate cause of death is said to have been fatty degeneration of the heart.

IT is gratifying to observe that the trustees of the National Park have got into harness, and that the necessary steps are being taken to define the boundaries prior to enclosing the people's domain. The park, however, can not be of much value to the public until means of access to it are provided. A railway to it might have the great advantage of adding new suburbs to Sydney, and would incidentally make provision for a large population now badly off in the matter of communication.

IT will be remembered that a paragraph in yesterday's Herald recording the plucky conduct of a seaman of the Wolverene, named Henry Tuffnell, who having broken his oar during a boat-race with a German man-of-war crew, jumped overboard in order that his comrades might not be impeded by his weight. In recognition of this gallant act—so characteristic of a British sailor—a well-known mercantile gentleman of this city has left at this office a small subscription towards a testimonial for this brave tar, and it is expected that others will soon follow, so that a substantial token may be given to Tuffnell of the appreciation the citizens of Sydney feel of a man who is ready to risk his own life for the honour of the British flag.

THE drawing for the prizes offered by the Sydney United Omnibus Company in connection with their butt-ticket system took place yesterday morning, at the company's office, in King-street. The tickets from which the butts had been taken, numbering one and a-quarter million, were placed in a revolving barrel, the dimensions of which were five feet by four feet six inches, and the barrel was turned frequently so as to have the tickets well mixed. The drawing was done by his Worship the Mayor (Mr. C. J. Roberts), 11 tickets being taken by him from the barrel, which was revolved after each ticket was drawn, and as the tickets were taken the prizes were allotted.

IT will be well for ladies who visit the Garden Palace to guard their pockets from being picked. The best way for them to do this is to leave at home in safe custody all their valuables, except those they think desirable to be worn for personal adornment. Yesterday morning a man named Palmer, who is well known to the police of South Australia, and a man named Wilson, were sentenced to six months' hard labour for being in the Garden Palace with intent to commit a felony. Detective J. Camphin arrested the prisoners. He said that, from information he had received, he kept his eye upon them, and before long saw them fumbling with ladies' dresses. He saw Palmer put one of his hands into the pocket of a lady's dress, but without obtaining anything. Detective Doyle, of Adelaide, was present to say something as to Palmer's character, but the Bench held that his evidence was not required.

THE Gymnasium, in Darlinghurst Road, was attended on last Tuesday evening by a number of ladies and gentlemen, to witness the performance of the pupils of Professor G. H. D'Harcourt, the occasion being a benefit tendered by those gentlemen to their instructor. There are very few who do not admire the healthful exercises and muscular development consequent on such teaching, and those present, by their frequent applause, showed how thoroughly they enjoyed the numerous feats with the rings, trapeze, horizontal bar, horizontal ladder, slanting ladder, poles, dumb-bells, &c., &c., each member going through and finishing his performance cleverly, showing the careful and excellent training by Mr. D'Harcourt. The chair was occupied by Mr. G. Norton Russell, who complimented the Professor on the proficiency of his scholars. He also read an address (with over forty pupils' name attached to it, and many others to be added) to Mr. D'Harcourt, speaking of his gentlemanly manner and patience with his pupils, and asking him to accept a purse of sovereigns as a token of their admiration of him as an instructor in gymnastics. The chairman then called for a vote of thanks to Mr. D'Harcourt, thus finishing an entertainment which was both instructive and amusing.

THE Court of Quarter Sessions, yesterday, was occupied during almost the entire day in the investigation of a case of nuisance. William Niley, a nightman, was charged with having deposited night soil on a paddock leased by his wife at Darlington. The evidence had not concluded when the Court rose, and the trial will be proceeded with this morning.

THE general monthly meeting of the members of the Royal Society of New South Wales was held last night in the society's house, Elizabeth-street. There was a fair attendance, and the Hon. Professor Smith, C.M.G., M.L.C. (president), occupied the chair. The minutes of the preceding monthly meeting were read and confirmed. Three new members were introduced, and enrolled their names. It was resolved to authorize the Council of the society to procure a die for the Clarke Memorial Medal. The medal is to be of gold, of the value of at least £10, and is to be given for meritorious contributions to the geology and natural history of Australia, to be open to people outside of Australia. Professor Liversidge read portions of a paper on "The Languages of Australia in connection with those of Mozambique and of the South of Africa," by Mr. Hyde Clarke, V.P., Society of Arts, London. A fuller report of the proceedings will appear in a future issue.

WE learn by telegram from Singleton that five Sisters of Mercy proceeded yesterday morning to Murrurundi to establish a branch house of their order there.

ON Tuesday evening the Bathurst-street Young Men's Mutual Improvement Class held a social reunion in the Lyceum School, Mr. W. Newman (vice-president of the society) in the chair, the entertainment consisting of readings and recitations by the members, which were rendered in a highly satisfactory and interesting manner. A most pleasing feature of the evening was the music, consisting of overture, solos, and duets; the proceedings being wound up by singing the new Australian Anthem, by Giorza. The evening was on the whole enjoyable and instructive.

WE have received from Mr. W. Bullard a copy of a new piece of dance music, entitled, "The Australian Exhibition Schottische," composed by Mr. W. H. Smith, and dedicated to Mr. P. A. Jennings, C.M.G., the Executive Commissioner. It opens in the key of E flat, changes to A flat, returns to E, and then changes to B, ending in the original key. The music is pretty and is easy to dance to.

THE following cases were treated at the Infirmary yesterday morning:—Charles Fennell, of 57, Kent-street, fractured ribs, caused by falling over an iron hoop on to a barrel; Helen Spearks, cut over eye, caused by a plank springing up whilst she was stooping down; Thomas Smith, wound of finger, caused by a chisel, at the A.S.N. Co.'s works, Pyrmont; John M'Phee, injury to shoulder, caused by a fall; Thomas Johnson, cut head, caused by falling on a log.

A TYPOGRAPHICAL error occurs in the prize poem, published yesterday. The line "The Christ to whom pure pleading heart hath crept," has, unfortunately, been printed "The Christ to whose pure pleading heart hath crept."

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATRE ROYAL.

"The day after the Wedding" and "Lalla Rookh" were repeated at the Theatre Royal last night to a large audience. Each went well, and the spirited action and effective situations of the burlesque elicited the warmest marks of approval from those present. Madame Scasi's splendid voice and finished style of singing gain her several recalls nightly; while Mr. South, Miss Oliver, and the Misses Deorwyn, with their entertaining songs, contribute much to the success of the piece.

VICTORIA THEATRE.

"Foiled" was repeated at the Victoria Theatre to a rather thin house, and it went smoothly.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

Baker and Farron are still playing "The Cut Glove" at the Queen's Theatre. There was a good house, and the combination of melodrama, music-hall singing, and German dialect seemed to take well.

GUILD HALL.

There was a large attendance at the Guild Hall last night, to witness another performance of the Froliques. The programme was the same as on the previous evening, and was very successfully carried out, not the least pleasing part of the entertainment being Mr. Martin Simonsen's violin performances.

SCHOOL OF ARTS.

There was again a crowded house at the School of Arts last night, when Professor Pepper gave another of his instructive entertainments. The optical illusions are of a very mystifying character, but the Professor takes a delight in reminding his audiences that everything is purely of a scientific nature, and so he instructs while he pleases.

THE CIRCUSES.

The attendance at the two circuses last night was about up to the average, and there was little in the bill of fare at either place to call for special notice.

A calico ball will be held this evening in the Exhibition Building, Prince Alfred Park. Apart from the interest which such entertainments usually beget, the ball of to-night has a special object of its own, and that a benevolent one—namely, to supplement the funds of the Infants' Home, Ashfield. Those, therefore, who patronise and attend the ball will not only have an evening's pleasurable recreation, but will at the same time have the additional satisfaction of knowing they are helping on the work of humanity which those who established the Home at Ashfield have so well begun. The ball to-night is under the patronage of his Excellency Lord Augustus Loftus, G.C.B. (who has intimated his intention to be present), the Commodore of the Australian station, the captains and officers of the Wolverene and the various foreign ships of war now in port; also, Mr. P. A. Jennings, C.M.G., and the principal foreign commissioners to the International Exhibition, as well as the Mayor of Sydney. The entertainment bids fair to be a brilliant success.

THE DAUGHTERS OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.—The Prince of Wales's three little girls (says the World), all intelligently interested in music and very apt learners, have been placed under the instruction of Mdlle. Gayrard-Pacini, a finished pianiste of a refined, pure, and classical school. The selection of the teacher is an instance of the Princess's own finely-cultivated musical taste.

SYDNEY INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

The attendance at the Exhibition, yesterday, was very satisfactory, particularly in the afternoon, when the interior of the Garden Palace looked gay and animated. A glance at the tramcar as it passes along Elizabeth-street towards Hunter-street, shows that a very large proportion of the visitors come in from the suburbs. Many of those who come in during the morning may be seen carrying baskets of provisions to be consumed in the Exhibition grounds. This, in connection with the fact that the great majority of visitors do no go till the afternoon, seems not to augur well for the various caterers scattered about the Exhibition grounds, and who have heavy rents and other considerable expenses to pay.

The Executive Commissioner, to whom, by the way, seeing that there are so many Executive Commissioners from other places, it seems desirable to give a more distinctive appellation, yesterday received a communication from the Government of the Dominion of Canada, transmitted by telegram to San Francisco and thence by mail, informing him that an honorary commission had been appointed to represent Canada at the Sydney International Exhibition, and stating the following as the commission:—The Hon. Sir John Hay, K.C.M.G., M.L.C.; Mr. R. L. Tooth; and Mr. R. W. Cameron, of New York.

Yesterday the men of the Austrian ship-of-war Heligoland visited the Exhibition by invitation of the Commission. They arrived at 10 o clock in the morning and remained most of the day, visiting the various courts.

The London School Board exhibits are expected to be placed in the building in a day or two. The Ontario School Board exhibits, which attracted so much notice at previous Exhibitions, have been presented to the colony by the Government of Canada, and were expected to arrive by the Chimborazo, but according to advices by the mail they will be shipped in the Cuzco, and consequently have not arrived as soon as was expected.

The British catalogue is on board the Chimborazo. It is printed by Johnson, of London.

With regard to the sale of exhibits in the Garden Palace the Commission is taking action. According to regulation 8 of the programme, "Exhibits will be admitted duty free. The removal of goods, except under special circumstances, will not be permitted prior to the closing of the Exhibition. Facilities will be given for the sale of exhibits to be delivered after the closing of the Exhibition." Then by No. 10 of the general rules and regulations it is provided that "The removal of goods from one part of the building to another, or from the Exhibition, is forbidden, without an order from the superintendent in charge of the building." It is intended to print and circulate these rules among all the exhibitors in the Garden Palace, with stringent notice to all, except those having special concessions, that a breach of these rules will render them liable to immediate ejection.

Mr. Morris, the secretary to the Commission, has been ill for several days, and is still too unwell to attend to business.

Those who have never seen the alpaca will be able to get a view of that interesting animal in an enclosure at the side of the sheep shed. There is a flock of 12, the progeny of the herd introduced some years ago by Mr. Charles Ledger, from South America.

Visitors to the machinery hall yesterday morning had the privilege of seeing the result of a test-trial made with one of Siebe and Gorman's ice-making machines. The machine had been kept running for twenty-four hours, and the result was the production of several slabs of ice, which were remarkable for their extreme transparency. Literally, they were as clear as crystal, and without a flaw. Although about two inches thick, ordinary print could be seen through them as distinctly as if there were no interposing medium whatever. Transparency is obtained by the very simple process of keeping the water containing the moulds in a state of agitation, thereby preventing the formation of air bubbles on the ice, the opaque appearance of ice as usually made being due to the existence of such bubbles. The necessary degree of cold is produced by means of the evaporation of ether, which is a very volatile liquid, its boiling point being 96° Fahrenheit. An important feature in connection with it is that it may be used over and over again for a very long time. Thus, in the machine under notice, four gallons of ether are employed, and that quantity will last all through the Exhibition, for it is the intention of the exhibitors to go on manufacturing ice every day, though in smaller quantities than that turned out yesterday. A small circular chamber, called the refrigerator, is first charged with ether, which is turned into vapour by the exhaustion of the air. The ether vapour then passes into the condenser, where it resumes its liquid form, and is returned to the refrigerator to undergo the same process again. Through two of the pipes in the refrigerator a current of brine is kept passing, and the intensely cold vaporized ether, acting upon it, reduces its temperature considerably below the freezing point of water, the salt preventing the liquid from congealing. The cold brine is then conducted into a number of moulds which are placed in a large reservoir in the form of an oblong box, and are surrounded by the fresh water which is to be made into ice. The water in contact with the moulds freezes first, and the mould is gradually encased in a covering of ice which grows thicker and thicker the longer the machine is kept going. There is a simple contrivance which keeps the water in a moderate state of agitation, and prevents, as we have said, the formation of air bubbles on the ice. This means of agitation has been patented by the exhibitors. Ice can be produced by machines of this sort in large slabs 6 inches thick and upwards, if required, but the tedious process accompanying the formation of ice beyond 6 inches thick, from its non-conducting nature, is a great drawback, and such large blocks necessitate much labour in moving from the ice-box, as well as occupy considerable time in cutting up into small blocks, thus forming a large item in the cost of its manufacture previous to its sale, and seriously affecting the profits; but the ice made by Siebe and Gorman's machines is in blocks of convenient size and weight, and easily stored, there being no further cost thereon after removing from the ice-box, except delivery. The firm gained a silver medal for their machine at the Paris Exhibition. The cost of making the ice is very small. It varies from 5s. to 10s. a ton, according to the quantity produced.

The Turkish pavilion, one of the small buildings situated near the Figtree walk, is an object of great interest to visitors on account of the varied collection of rich and rare things from the East. Several Turks wearing their national fez are in attendance, and by special permission they are allowed with others, who, like them, pay for the concession, to sell their wares.

In the afternoon Mons. J. Meilhan gave a pianoforte recital. He played a minuet by Schubert; Nos. 3 and 4, "Lieder ohne worte," (Mendelssohn); Chopin's Polonaise No. 4; Beethoven's 9th Sonata; "Mignonette," (Bachmann); and Wagner's "Tannhauser" March. In each he displayed brilliant execution and artistic finish, and several selections were very heartily applauded. Mr. G. F. Mitchell, organist, Goulburn, also played during the afternoon. He performed an overture; a selection from "Elijah"; and "The Silver Trumpets"; and did each so well that his hearers found the recital very pleasant. This afternoon an orchestral and vocal concert will be given, at which the singers will be Madame Carandini, Miss Carandini, and Mr. Sherwin.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I request you to allow me, through the medium of your columns, the opportunity of giving publicity to my grievances as an exhibitor of live stock at the International Exhibition. Some two months ago I wrote to the Commission, stating that I had several breeds of pigs, and inquiring (as the schedule did not contain any special classes for the breeds I possess) in what classes I should enter my animals.

Under date of 19th July last, the Commission informed me that they fully appreciated my efforts to improve the pigs of the colony, and that in the case of special classes, the judges had power to award special prizes, and that I might depend upon my animals being exhibited in such a manner as would show their qualities, &c.

I then wrote the Commission, inquiring if I should enter my swine as "extra sub-classes," and under date of 11th August, I received the following reply from the secretary:—

"I laid your letter in reference to 'class 649, swine,' before the Live Stock Committee, and am desired to point out to you that there will be no difficulty in classifying your swine, of whatever kind they may be. You will observe in the live stock schedule, which I send, that there are four sub-classes, 'large, medium, small breeds, and long-bodied breeds,' and any sort of pig can be classed under one or other, for besides those actually named you will observe that 'etc.' is added in every case. I am also desired to say that in special cases, such as you mention, you can enter each in what class you think it most nearly approaches, and each will be judged separately on its own merits, and will receive a prize or other accordingly.

"In case of the judges thinking that any animal should be in a different sub-class from that in which it has been entered, it does not necessarily invalidate the entry, as they can amend by changing its sub-class, and then judge it upon its own merits, and give it a prize.

"You need not be at all alarmed as to any of your animals being disqualified upon merely technical grounds."

Now, Sir, upon the faith of the assurance contained in the above letter, I entered a boar and sow of my "Poland-Chinas" breed (imported by me last year from Ohio), which are a perfectly distinct breed of swine, and of great reputation in the United States. I also entered two of my improved Essex (also imported by me from Moreton Farm, New York) which are also a true and distinct breed. I also entered some Berkshires of the improved and pure bred or old English types; upon each certificate of entry I wrote plainly the name of the breed (which has been printed in the official catalogue), and classed each animal under the class it most nearly approached (i.e. as medium, small, &c.) as directed by the Commission. Judge then, Sir, at my astonishment and annoyance at my Poland-Chinas being classed and judged with Yorkshires, the Holywell breed, &c.; my improved Essex (a small black breed) being classed and judged with pigs of the "small York and Lord Radnor" breeds (both white breeds), and my improved Berkshires being classed and judged with the "long-bodied Old English type of Berkshire, and any others entered as long-bodied.

I have protested to the Live Stock Committee against the classification and the awards made. One of the judges, I am informed, when viewing my improved Essex pigs, remarked to this effect:—"We need not look at these, anyone can see that they are only weeds." Now, Sir, I object to men being appointed to act as judges who do not know one breed from another. Yesterday morning only one of the appointed judges was available, and after delaying some two hours after the advertized time for the judging to commence, two other gentlemen were selected upon the ground. I think, Sir, that all the live stock judges should be appointed—not ten minutes before they are called upon to act—but two or three months before the show takes place, and before the entries close.

I forgot to say that I handed yesterday morning, shortly after 9 o'clock, and some three hours before the judging commenced, a letter to two members of the Live Stock Committee, directing their attention to the classes under which I had entered my swine, and requesting them to direct the judges to judge them according to the assurance I had received from the Commission. This letter, apparently, was consigned to the waste paper basket.

Since writing the foregoing, I have been informed that the Live Stock Committee, at its meeting this afternoon, has disallowed my protest. I can only say that I regret exceedingly that I should have taken so much trouble to make the show of swine attractive and creditable to the colony; and I consider that after the treatment my swine have received, I had better keep my shorthorns and other cattle at home, which no doubt some of my fellow breeders and exhibitors may do also, as it is evident that the live stock portion of the International Exhibition is not receiving that attention which our great pastoral and agricultural interests deserve.

I am, Sir, &c.

OMNIBUS TICKET LOTTERY.

Yesterday morning the drawing for the prizes offered by the directors of the Sydney United Omnibus Company, in connection with their new system of issuing omnibus tickets with butts attached to them, took place at the company's office, in King-street. The tickets, which numbered about one-and-a-quarter million, had been placed in a revolving barrel specially made for the purpose, and the dimensions of which were 4 feet 6 inches in diameter, and 5 feet in length, and by turning the barrel round, a labour that took four or five men to accomplish, the tickets were thoroughly mixed. Nothing could be fairer in the way of giving everybody a chance for the prizes, and the drawing was done by his Worship the Mayor, Mr. C. J. Roberts. As many as 60,000 tickets had been returned to the Company's office from the omnibus ticket-boxes, with the butts still attached, and those tickets were not placed in the barrel. They had been made up into parcels of 10,000 each, and were awaiting destruction when the drawing for the prizes was over, and the tickets in the barrel could be destroyed also. None but actual purchasers of tickets had any chance in the drawing, and the object of the directors of the company in introducing the system of giving prizes was as much to protect the company from fraud on the part of their drivers as to make omnibus travelling more popular and profitable. Before this system was introduced the company were robbed, we are informed, to the extent of about £5000 a year, and omnibus tickets fraudulently obtained could be bought about the city for 2s. a dozen. The butt system prevents this, and is therefore valuable to the company, while it is at the same time a profitable speculation for the travelling public. Why the company should have lost so largely through the dishonesty of some of their employés it is not easy to explain, especially as the wages paid to the drivers appear to be fair enough—£2 per week on engagement, with an increase of 2s. 6d. a week after the expiration of three months, and another 2s. 6d. after the expiration of six months. The fact is, however, that the losses have amounted to from £60 to £100 a week, and so far the directors are well satisfied with the butt-ticket system. The prizes given on this the first occasion of drawing for them, amount to £50, but we believe the directors contemplate increasing that amount for the prizes of the next three months to perhaps £150. The gentlemen present at the drawing yesterday were his Worship the Mayor (Mr. C. J. Roberts), Mr. Alderman Chapman, Mr. Alderman Young (chairman of the company), Mr. A. W. Gilles, Mr. W. R. Hall, Mr. P. Higgins, and Mr. D. Williams (directors of the company), Mr. Sachstone (secretary to the company), Mr. Travers (Traffic Manager for the company), Mr. C. C. Skarratt, and the representatives of the Press.

Previous to the drawing some champagne was uncorked, and the Mayor proposed as a toast "The Prosperity of the Sydney United Omnibus Company." He expressed his sense of the obligations the citizens were under to the Company for the improvements in our omnibus traffic, and pointed out that while every effort was made by the company to accommodate the public, some of the lines were worked at a pecuniary loss.

Mr. YOUNG, responding, said that the 'buses of the company were now equal to the best American omnibuses, and much superior to the London omnibuses, which were heavy and clumsy, and ill ventilated. The London two-horse omnibus weighed about 35 cwt., whereas the Sydney omnibus weighed no more than 18 cwt., and afforded more accommodation. In addition to what the company had done to improve the 'bus traffic, they were willing to lay down tramways cheaper and better than the tramway in Elizabeth-street, which was not only defective in construction, but would cost very much for maintenance.

The company then adjourned to the room where the drawing was to take place, and the barrel having been again turned round, the Mayor inserted his hand and took out a ticket, and to the number of this ticket was allotted the first prize. In this way the whole of the prizes were awarded, the barrel being revolved after every drawing; and once or twice the Mayor plunged his hand into the heap of tickets, and took one from the centre of the heap. Everything was as fair as could be in that respect, and there was no hitch in any way. The list of winning members will be found below. It is possible that one or more of the prizes have fallen to numbers upon butts which have been lost or destroyed. In that case the money will not revert to the company, but will after the lapse of a certain period of time be handed to one or more of our charitable institutions. The prizes can be obtained at the company's office by the holders of the butts, the numbers of which are represented in the list of winners. It will be noticed that all the tickets that were drawn from the barrel are A's. This is accounted for by the fact that the proportion of A tickets was about a million to a quarter of a million B tickets. Many B tickets which have been issued will have a chance in the next lottery, so that holders of butts of B tickets should not destroy them under the impression that all their chances for prizes were lost yesterday. The tickets that were in the barrel yesterday were, with the 60,000 having the butts attached, to be destroyed last night in a furnace specially constructed for the purpose.

The following is the list of the winning numbers:—A768360, £20; A861816, £10; A017415, £5; A193,892, £5; A173354, £2; A445587, £2; A676855, £2; A617710, £1; A291851, £1; A874142, £1; A980563, £1.

A QUICK PASSAGE.—The Orient Steam Navigation Company's steamer Cuzco, Captain Murdoch, arrived at Plymouth on the morning of Saturday, July 26, at 10.30, having made the fastest passage on record from Adelaide. The Cuzco left Sydney June 6, Melbourne 14, and Adelaide 19, at 1 a.m., arriving at Suez on July 15, after a passage of 26 days five hours. Here she landed some mails and passengers, and proceeded at once to Port Said, where she arrived on the following day. She passed Malta on July 19, and Gibraltar on the 22nd. This voyage of the Cuzco, thirty-seven days ten hours, is quicker by twenty-four hours than the hitherto "fastest on record"—that of the Chimborazo, which arrived at Plymouth on the 26th ultimo. On February 1 last the Cuzco arrived at Plymouth, making on that occasion the quickest run known, the length of passage being thirty-eight days twenty-two hours. Since then the John Elder and Chimborazo have made quicker runs, and now the surprising passage of the Cuzco has put them all in the shade.—Home News.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.—ITS UNEQUALLED EFFICACY IN GENERAL DEBILITY.—In cases of debility and defective nutrition, the use of this celebrated Oil has been attended with remarkably beneficial results. Mr. Rowland Dalton, District Medical Officer, Bury St. Edmunds, writes:—"In giving my opinion of Dr. de Jongh's Light-brown Cod Liver Oil, I have no hesitation in saying that I have not the slightest confidence in any other kind. The effects of Dr. de Jongh's Oil are sure and most remarkable, especially in that broken-down state of health and strength which usually precedes and favours tubercular deposit; and I never recommend any other sort. The Oil I have had from you was for my own use, and it has certainly been the only means of saving my life on two occasions; and even now, when I feel 'out of condition,' I take it, and like it, unmixed with anything, as being the most agreeable way. I could wish that Dr. de Jongh's Oil would come into general use, and entirely supersede the pale and other worthless preparations." Dr. de Jongh's Light-brown Cod Liver Oil is sold only in capsuled imperial half-pints, pints, and quarts, by all chemists and druggists. Sole consignees, Ansar, Harford, and Co., 77, Strand, London. SUMMARY OF NEWS.

LONDON, AUG. 29.

Parliament was prorogued on the 15th instant. The Queen's Speech, read by a Commission, was as follows:—"I am happy to be able to relieve you from your laborious duties. The relations with other Powers continue cordial, and my influence with them will be employed in maintaining the obligations imposed by Treaties, and promoting and consolidating a general peace. The territorial arrangements stipulated in the Treaty of Berlin have been faithfully executed, and deliniation of new frontiers is nearly completed, and the Balkan Peninsula has been evacuated by the Russian army, in accordance with the treaty. Under the unanimous sanction of the signatory Powers, suitable provision has been made for the Government of the Ottoman province of Eastern Roumelia, and I have, with great satisfaction, given my approval to the election of Prince Alexander of Battenberge as Prince of Bulgaria. The calamities inflicted by the late war hitherto precluded the adoption of those reforms by the Ottoman Government of which it has acknowledged the necessity; but I have urged, and shall continue to urge, the importance of a timely compliance with its engagement in this respect. At the suggestion of my Government, in conjunction with that of France, a change has taken place in the vice-royalty of Egypt, which the past misgovernment of that country had rendered necessary. The treaty concluded with the Ameer of Afghanistan, and which was laid before you, happily terminated the war which his predecessor compelled me to undertake. By it friendly relations with the State are re-established, and guarantee for peace and safety is given, and the frontiers of India are strengthened. The ability displayed in this war by those in command of my troops, both British and native, and the gallantry and endurance of the troops themselves, well deserved the thanks bestowed on them by both Houses of Parliament. My acknowledgments are especially due to the many native Princes who made offers of assistance, as well as to those whose forces were actually brought into the field; and I recognise in such zealous co-operation their attachment and goodwill to the Indian Empire. Since I last addressed you my forces have been engaged in serious conflicts with a most powerful native ruler in South Africa; and while I have pleasure in thanking them for vindicating the honour of the British arms, I must mourn the loss of many a precious life. I trust that the decisive success which recently attended their operations will lead to an early establishment of peace on a good basis, and my subjects in that part of the world thus being relieved from the danger to which they have hitherto been exposed, may readily join in such arrangements as may best secure their safety and prosperity in future. By the Army Discipline Act you have, for the first time, placed upon the Statute Book in a complete code the laws relating to service in the army and other military forces. You have arranged in a clear comprehensive form the provisions for the due maintenance of discipline. You have an improved system under which enlistment takes place, and you have amended regulations under which the reserves can be called out. Acts providing for the appointment of a public prosecutor, and amending the law relating to summary jurisdiction of magistrates, will, I trust, greatly improve the administration of the Criminal law. The alterations which you have made in the law relating to Banking and Joint Stock companies is well calculated to conduce to the prosperity of this important portion of our mercantile and commercial system. The depressed condition of the agricultural interest has naturally engaged your attention, and I have had much pleasure in complying with the address of the House of Commons, requesting me to appoint a commission to inquire into the causes to which the depression is owing, and how far it can be remedied by legislation. I observe with satisfaction that you have been able to consider the important subject of education in Ireland, and that you have agreed to a measure which will form a fitting supplement to the enactment of last session as to intermediate education. The primary education of the country cannot but be stimulated by the careful provision you have made for improving the position of teachers; and the bill you have passed for University education, will, I trust, supply what is needed for the advancement of learning in the higher branches."

The weather causes increasing anxiety. Rain recommenced last week, after a brief spell of sunshine, and has been almost continuous since. There is now a faint tendency to improvement. The harvest prospects are extremely gloomy. Floods in all directions are causing immense damage and loss, and great distress among the tenant farmers, large and small, hundreds of whom are throwing up their farms. Eighty tenant farmers sailed last week from Liverpool for Texas. Lord Hammersleigh and Colonel Stanley speaking at agricultural meetings both indicated that a general reduction in rents is inevitable if matters continue as they have during the last three or four years.

The coming electoral campaign has been inaugurated by speeches from Mr. Gladstone, Sir Charles Dilke, the Marquis of Hartington, and the Right Hon. G. J. Goschen. The latter retires on the general election of representatives.

THE AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Permit me to correct the impression conveyed in to-day's report as to my having in any way questioned the correctness of Mr. Black's calculations. What I stated, or intended to do, was, that as by-law 22 requires, "that prior to each division of profits, one or more professional actuaries appointed by the Board, shall certify as to the correctness of the calculations, or the basis on which it is done." Surely it was more important that the investments which constituted these sums should be specially valued and certified to. I have no desire to cast any reflections upon the present management, yet as such unexpected disclosures as connected with the City of Glasgow Bank do startle the world every now and then, I think it but right that every means should be made use of to prevent a similar occurrence here. Annually we have two elected auditors, quinquennially one or two actuaries, yet neither annually nor quinquennially any other report than that of the directors as to the value of the securities. Now, as these documents are valued by, and advanced on by these gentlemen, and now represent some two millions and six hundred and thirty-nine thousand pounds, I consider it highly desirable that these, independent of the Board, should periodically be valued by two elected members, say such as Mr. Wrench for the mortgage loans and Mr. Mullens for the debentures. These need not be annually, but certainly quinquennially, before the large amounts which forms the bonus is divided amongst the members.

Yours respectfully,
October 1. JOHN G. MARWICK.

THIS DAY, at 3 p.m., at the Rooms, Spring and O'Connell streets, handsome opossum rugs, kangaroo and wallaby rugs, mats, hearthrugs, caps, opossum skins, &c. Gentlemen about proceeding to Europe and others are requested to attend. Bradley, Newton, and Lamb, auctioneers.—ADV.

WEDNESDAY.

Last night, at South Waratah, some persons assembled near the houses occupied by two of the recent arrivals and their families, and, after throwing a stone and breaking a pane of glass in one house, dispersed before the police had time to get near them, as the police are located near the colliery where nearly all the newly-imported miners reside, and the houses attacked occupy isolated positions.

At an adjourned public meeting on the subject of baths for Newcastle, held at the Great Northern Hotel last night, comprehensive plans were submitted by the City Engineer, and referred to a committee for report.

DUBBO.

WEDNESDAY.

A sale of town properties was held to-day, at the Royal Hotel, by Mr. Taylor. The reserves, in most instances, were not reached. £4400 was bid for Moffatt and Co.'s mill, but it was withdrawn—the reserve being higher. Eagan's unimproved half acre, at the corner of Macquarie and Church streets, and near all the public buildings, were bought by the Australian Joint Stock Bank for £1500. This is the best site in Dubbo, and the bank has undoubtely secured a magnificent property. It would, only for the tight money market, have fetched a fourth more. A farm at Timberabongie was sold for £300 to Mr. J. S. Brown.

WEDNESDAY.

An elderly man, named George Smith, was brought up at the Police-court this morning and committed to take his trial at the Circuit Court, to be held here next week, on a charge of housebreaking. There are three charges against him. On Monday night he forced the door of Mr. P. G. Myers' store and stole a calico tarpaulin, &c., valued at £12. He also entered the premises of Mr. Fletcher, boarding-housekeeper, and stole a wash-tub, and he stole two tin buckets from a Mr. Triglone.

The concert in the Mechanics' Hall, last night, in aid of the Catholic Orphanage, was a great success. There was a very large audience. Miss Moon, and Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Kelly, of Sydney, assisted by local lady and gentleman amateurs, performed a very choice programme in a creditable manner.

Mr. Davies, M.L.A., is progressing very satisfactorily, and all unfavourable symptoms have disappeared.

VICTORIA.

MELBOURNE, WEDNESDAY.

The Legislative Council held only a short sitting to-day, and adjourned till Tuesday.

In the Assembly a case recently before the Supreme Court, in which the Commercial Bank and a selector are concerned, gave rise to a discussion on a motion for adjournment. Some time was occupied over the question, and remarks, somewhat of a personal nature, were made, Mr. Service having accused Mr. Dwyer of having an animus against the bank. The tariff was then further proceeded with, but very little progress was made. The duty on axles was passed after a protest by some members, and then Mr. Lalor proposed a number of new duties that no one ever heard of, on oils. They were strongly opposed, and the Government finding that they were having oppposition, consented to progress being reported. It is scarcely likely that the House will adjourn the next month for the holiday.

The new duties include additional taxation on all kinds of vehicles, and on pearl barley and hempen yarn.

The report of the Crown Lands Commission recommends that on the termination of pastoral leases in 1880, the runs be cut into 1000, 2000, and up to 10,000 acres, and to be thrown open to selection at the present rental, the occupiers to effect permanent improvements, and hold the land for ten years.

An industrial exhibition was opened at Brunswick this afternoon by the Chief Secretary.

Mr. William M'Culloch has lost his bull Oxford de Vere the Second, which cost nearly 3000 guineas.

A young woman named Mary Connell was committed for trial to-day, charged with abandoning her infant child, and shamefully neglecting it.

The weather is fine.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

ADELAIDE, WEDNESDAY.

In the Assembly, to-night, Mr. Bean introduced a bill to remedy the evils of betting at races by discouraging betting on credit, and legalizing the totalizator. The Minister for Education said the Government propose next session to introduce a bill to reduce the Northern territory pastoral rents, except in the neighbourhood of Palmerston, to the same rate as in the far northern parts of South Australia proper. A rebate will be given to the present lessees. The second reading of Mr. Ward's Bill, to enable credit selectors to mortgage their selections in certain cases, was carried by a majority of 11.

Mr. Ward will move in the Assembly, on Friday, "That it is desirable that immediate steps should be taken to provide better accommodation for ocean steamers at or near the metropolitan port of the colony, and that the Government should submit proposals on the subject this session."

Barnard's appeal to the local Courts against the decision of the Police Court in reference to the totalizator, was dismissed.

Madame de Sampigny, a Frenchwoman, has been shot in Brussels, while ascending the staircase of her lodgings, by her husband, who immediately gave himself up to the police, stating that she had deserted him and their four children to live with their coachman. The wife was mortally wounded by two of the four balls fired at her. She begged that her husband might be let alone, and it seems that she had hired a separate lodging for the coachman, whom she represented as her cousin, and who arrived two days before the tragedy. Both husband and wife belong to good families in France.

SYDNEY TROTTING CLUB.

A meeting of gentlemen favourable to the establishment of a Sydney Trotting Club was held last night at the Royal Hotel. It was well attended, and Mr. J. Roberts was voted to the chair. After a few preliminary remarks, the chairman moved,—"That it is desirable to establish a Trotting Club in Sydney." Mr. M'Laughlin seconded the motion, and it was carried unanimously. The chairman was appointed hon. treasurer, and Mr. S. Ross hon. secretary pro tem. Letters were read from several gentlemen apologising for their non-attendance, and expressing warm interest in the club as likely to acclimatize here a new sport, tending to improve the breed of horses, especially as regards hacks and roadsters. Liberal subscriptions were promised, both by letter and by gentlemen at the meeting. An influential committee was formed, with power to add to its number, and it was stated that a very suitable piece of ground for a course was available near Sydney, if arrangements for obtaining it could be made. The subscription was fixed at £2 2s. per annum, commencing from the 1st October, and the meeting was adjourned until 5 p.m. on the 8th instant, when a draft code of rules will be submitted.

THE ENGLISH CHAMPION BILLIARD PLAYER.

William Cook, the English champion billiard player, at length made his re-appearance with Kilkenny at the Masonic Hall last evening, having arrived in the morning from New Zealand. The patrons and admirers of the game could scarcely have been aware of his presence, for they mustered in far less force than the number who presented themselves on Monday, when he was expected to give the first of his series of Exhibition matches. Those who were in attendance had a treat that could not have been anticipated, seeing that the players had so recently come ashore after a rough sea voyage. Cook has not previously shown so interesting a game. It was remarkable for its diversity, the score being made chiefly by all round play in which every excellence and specialty of cueing, in twist and side stroke were called into requisition together with precise calculation and adjustment of strengths. Only two large breaks of over 100 were made, but they were peculiarly meritorious. Kilkenny started with an advantage of 250 in 1000. After the preliminary misses he was the first to open an account with a break of 39, including 11 spot hazards, and before Cook showed any considerable movement he added other runs of 48 and 45 by steady and skilful play. He had reached 379 when Cook's score was only 43. The champion, however, at this stage began to put together a few good breaks of 39, 34, 42, and 49, without much help from the spot stroke. His competitor still maintained a good lead, but he failed to hold possession of the balls so long as Cook, who at length finished a break of 121, which he has not excelled in Sydney, being comprised almost entirely of canons and losing hazards. This brought his score to 447 to Kilkenny's 519. Just before the ten minutes' interval, the champion commenced a break which, when finished, reached 64, and here he passed his opponent. Kilkenny subsequently was entirely eclipsed by the brilliant play of Cook who, with runs including 30, 37, and 50, increased his total to 705 to Kilkenny's 617. At this stage both frequently failed in attempts at difficult long canons and losing hazards, until Cook again made a run of 44, which comprised a cleverly kept nursery of about a dozen canons. The applause he earned by this feat had scarcely subsided when he commenced a break which closed with another total of 121 to his credit. Although essentially of an all-round character, it embraced the longest run of spot hazards, namely 14. The board now showed Cook to have reached 926, Kilkenny 669. The match was finished in four more breaks, by Cook running out the 1000, and winning by 308.

The two players will meet again, and if rest improves Cook's billiards, so far as to enable him to excel his exhibition last evening, he must afford the highest gratification to those who are able to appreciate the merit of first-class billiards.

BALMAIN REGATTA.

A meeting of the Balmain Regatta committee was held last evening to receive entries for several of the races. In the All Comers race in wager boats, the following entries were received:—E. Laycock, W. Trickett, and L. Nicholson, representing New South Wales; S. Edwards and R. Edwards, representing Victoria; and A. B. White, representing New Zealand. For the 4-oared race in stringtest gigs, for bona-fide amateurs, entries were received from the Fitzroy Rowing Club, Rockhampton, and the Sydney Rowing Club.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—There is a letter in your issue of yesterday, signed "Charon," reflecting on the Balmain Regatta Committee. We are not disposed to enter into a discussion with anonymous individuals, but simply wish to say that the statements in Charon's letter regarding the regatta committee are incorrect from first to last. Yours, &c.,

J. L. ADAMS,
Hon. Secretary Balmain Regatta.

THE SYDNEY COFFEE PALACE HOTEL.

The inaugural opening of the Sydney Coffee Palace Hotel, George-street, took place last night. In response to the invitation of the directors, about 350 persons were present, and amongst them were the Hon. Sir Alfred Stephen, K.C.M.G.; Mr. John Roseby, M.L.A.; Mr. R. Wynne, Mr. E. Hordern, Mr. P. R. Holdsworth, Mr. D. O'Rielly, Mr. F. W. Ward, the Rev. W. Curnow, Mr. C. J. Hughes (Manager), Mr. Thomas Rowe (Architect), Mr. W. Hardy (Contractor), Mr. W. Clark, Mr. S. E. Lees, Mr. B. James, Mr. W. Carey, Mr. G. Anderson, Canon Child, Mr. R. M'Coy, Mr. F. Abigail, and Aldermen Young, Taylor, Carter, and Withers. After the visitors had inspected the premises, and passed the most favourable comments on the extensive bedroom arrangements, the culinary department, and the elegant dining saloons, they were refreshed with a repast, prepared by Mr. Suhard, chef de cuisine of the establishment. During the evening they were favoured by Mr. C. B. Foster and Mr. C. Huenerbein with some pianoforte music from an instrument lent for the occasion by Mr. W. H. Paling. A description of the premises was published in the Herald on Friday last. Mr. W. Clark, chairman of the Board of directors, in addressing the visitors, gave them a most hearty welcome. He explained that when the directors first thought of starting a coffee palace they never anticipated that their original ideas would become so much enlarged. Their first idea was to start a coffee tavern for the working classes. They had been induced, however, from reading that estimable book, "Our Coffee Palace," as well as the annual report of the Coffee Tavern Company in Geelong, to believe that in order for their scheme to be successful they must provide a large number of bedrooms. Well, they provided them, in addition to the other accommodation, and now, after much deliberation, much spending of time and money, and much consultation with Mr. Rowe, they were enabled to bring their palace to its present complete state. Some persons thought their scheme too pretentious. They admitted the allegation to some extent. The directors, however, felt that there was a class of people in the community—young men in mercantile and banking institutions—which, by means of a counter attraction, might be weaned from public-houses. So they increased the proportions of the coffee palace with the view of meeting the requirements of these people. The directors contemplated providing nightly musical parties, and intended to accomplish all in their power to merit the sympathy and patronage of the public. If their scheme was successful, and they were able to make a profit out of it, they intended to carry their original objects further and provide less pretentious establishments for the working classes. In fact it was their desire to have coffee taverns and stalls in every place in the city where they would be counter attractions to public-houses. Sir Alfred Stephen said he had great pleasure in being present, and he had exceeding pleasure in finding that the design projected some months ago had been so successfully, he might say triumphantly carried into effect. He looked upon the present movement in favour of the establishment of coffee palaces as one of very great political, public, and social importance to the city and the colony generally. If they once led young men and women in any class of life to know that they might best retain their health, strength, and mental faculties, and do their work without the assistance of stimulants, they accomplished a great amount of good. He was exceedingly pleased to hear that musical entertainments were to be given at the institution. A greater mental enjoyment could not be provided for either young men or women. It had been thought by some persons that their scheme was too pretentious. Far from it. It would have been a mistake to attempt anything on a lesser scale than the present one. It would be found that with careful management that that establishment would succeed the best which was commenced grandly, and with a determination to make it a success. That was the doctrine which actuated the directors. He had inspected the arrangements of the institution, and he might say they were absolutely perfect. There was nothing about them which could be bettered. He had no doubt that the example set by the directors in promoting the institution would be followed throughout the country, in which case it would confer a benefit on the community at large. Alderman Young as an alderman of the city, and as a citizen, congratulated the directors on the success they had achieved. The institution had been required for many months past. Great taste was exhibited in the general design of it, and one of the greatest attractions in the place was its cleanliness. He hoped, and, indeed, he believed, the movement would have success, for the steps taken by the directors were in the proper direction.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I take a deep interest in the progress of our National State schools, which I think should be secular, compulsory, and free. During my visit to Sydney I have read the Pastorals, and your concise comments thereon. I have also read with attention the letters from your correspondent, Mr. Charles G. Heydon, who seems to me to be the most conscientious exponent of the Roman Catholic claims and objections. Mr. Heydon is evidently a conscientious man and a Christian—I claim to be the same—no less and no more—I recognise as Christian the Government of this colony which has undertaken to give free secular instruction, and I hold that a Christian State is bound to see that such secular instruction is imparted in accordance with the principles of Christianity, and not antagonistic thereto. The Government does not undertake to teach religion or the dogmas of the sects—it wisely leaves that to parents and the clergy, whose duty it is to do it—but in so far as the Department of Education can facilitate the clergy in their duty, it is desirable that they should be facilitated by the use of the Public schools and discipline, at fixed times set apart for the purpose. It is, I think, for Mr. Heydon to show that instruction in secular subjects unfits the minds of children for the reception of religious truths, or for the practice of Christian precepts. It is not enough for him to state that the secular teaching of the State schools is weaning them from the authority of the Church. As Professor Draper puts it, "Christianity is the gift of God, but ecclesiastical organisation is the result of human invention." We Protestants deny the "Apostolical succession" claimed for the Roman Catholic Church by Mr. Heydon, and some of us go further and deny that any ecclesiastical organisation was established by Jesus Christ, but believe it to be the product of human invention for the furtherance of Church influence. The spread of knowledge and intelligence has no doubt done much to loosen the hold of superstition and priestcraft on the human mind, and it is not to be wondered at that ecclesiastics are apprehensive for the future. As simple Christians we desire that our children should grow up with more tolerant views on religious questions than their forefathers enjoyed, looking forward to a time when all sects may meet on the ground of "common Christianity;" and we believe that nothing will be more conducive to the end in view than the common footing of freedom and equality enjoyed by them in our Public schools. Archbishop Whately possibly looked forward to the same end when he framed his Scripture lessons for the Irish National schools. That his system was opposed by the Roman Catholic bishops is no proof that it was not Christian. The success of the resistance offered by the bishops proves simply that ecclesiastical influence was, and is, more powerful in Ireland than it will ever be, I hope, in Australia. Yours, &c.,

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Seeing that the new tramway promises to be a great success in itself, and that a similar line would be well adapted for the requirements of the above suburbs, where railway communication (at our present rate of progress) seems to be out of the question, allow me, through your columns, to point out the necessity of the work being at once commenced. As the Elizabeth-street line was constructed so rapidly, a similar way could be laid and in use from Sydney to Woollahra, or even Waverley, in considerably under twelve months, and, independently of the immense advantage and comfort afforded to the many thousands living along and near the proposed line, the result in a pecuniary sense would be most renumerative. Hoping that the Government will take early steps in the matter.

Yours, &c.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

The monthly meeting of the New South Wales Agricultural Society's Council was held, yesterday, at the rooms, George-street. The Hon. G. H. Cox occupied the chair.

The Executive Committee's report was read and adopted.

A letter was read from Mr. S. Cohen, asking for the return of a £1 subscription given by him under the impression that the International Exhibition was to be held under the auspices of the society. A similar request was made by Mr. Neill, City Bank, for the return of a £20 subscription, and a refund was ordered in each case. From the Calico Ball Committee, asking for the use of certain chairs, &c., at the Exhibition-building. Granted.

The CHAIRMAN said that an application had been made to the City Council that the weekly rent of £1 for the iron store in the park might be remitted, but no answer had been received.

Dr. JENKINS asked what the exact position of the society with regard to assets was.

Mr. WANT answered that it was impossible to tell that yet, as the outside societies had sent in no balance-sheets, and as they could not say what the Government subsidy would be.

The CHAIRMAN added that, although the list of members showed 1000, only 400 or 500 had paid for this year.

Mr. HOLROYD said that it appeared to him that they were on the verge of bankruptcy, and he thought they should economize. There was very little business to be done now, and they could well abolish the Executive Council, and do the business in general council. If they abolished the Executive the secretary's duties would be lighter, and they might accept Mr. Want's kind offer to act as hon. secretary, and allow him to hire a clerk. They must really wait until they got into funds again before incurring any more expense, for he did not believe that they would get £50 next year from their 1000 subscribers. They could do nothing for the next 18 months, and if they adopted the scheme of reform he had suggested, and met for business once a month, he thought that every necessity would be met.

Mr. WOODHOUSE moved,—"That a secretary be appointed at a salary of £250 a year and a commission of 5 per cent. on the subscriptions received by the society." He thought they should pay an efficient officer, for this was the only way to keep the society together, and they could not get an active, efficient man at a less salary than he had proposed.

Mr. BRUCE seconded the motion, and in doing so gave Dr. Jenkins a rough estimate of the assets and liabilities of the society. They expected £650 from the Government; the rent of a farm at Parramatta was £10; donations and subscriptions to the end of the year, £20; stock in hand, property, &c., £300; and bank deposit, £1600. The liabilities were:—Office rent, £30; petty expenses, £30; dies and medals (probably), £200; outstanding accounts, £50; outstanding claims for the International, &c., £100; overdraft at the bank, £1500.

Dr. JENKINS expressed the hope that the Government would acknowledge the sacrifices the members of the society had made for the International, by giving them, when the Garden Palace was closed, the plant, &c., now erected for stock. He moved as an amendment to Mr. Woodhouse's motion—"That before the salary of a secretary be fixed the Executive Council should be requested to furnish the society with a statement of its assets and liabilities."

Mr. LODER seconded the amendment.

Mr. MAIDEN supported it, thinking that the affairs of the society had better be wound up at once, especially as they had Mr. Want willing to act as honorary secretary.

Some desultory discussion ensued, during which the amendment was modified very much. Finally the Chairman put it in the following shape,—"That the appointment of a secretary be deferred until a proper statement of the society's assets and liabilities is presented to a meeting this day fortnight."

The amendment was carried.

The SECRETARY stated that the following gentlemen had left vacancies on the Council:—Messrs. J. S. Gordon, C. S. Humphreys, J. J. Calvert, Trebeck, E. Stephen, and Captain Broomfield.

Some discussion arose as to the disposal of a quantity of wine accumulated in the society's cellar. This was made up of sample bottles from different shows, and the Council after adjourning for a fortnight, visited the cellar to taste the wine.
